GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

The following questions do not require a thorough knowledge of the law or police work. The test is mainly one of common sense and judgment.

The test questions are all multiple-choice. You are given several choices of an answer for each question, and you must decide which answer is the best one.

Consider carefully the results of each alternative to each problem or situation presented before making your answer.

- The following is a sample question:

1. The first month of the year is:

- (A) January
- (B) February
- (C) March
- (D) April
- (E) May

January is the first month of the year, so answer (A) is the best answer.

In taking this examination, you are to mark your answers on a separate answer sheet by blackening the space between the lines under the choice you think is best.

- Sample Answer Sheet

1. ☒ [A] [B] [C] [D] [E]

Space ☒ has been blackened because (A) is the best answer to the question.

Remember, only one answer is to be marked on the answer sheet for each question. Several answers may appear to be correct; however, you are to select only one answer which you feel is the best course of action.

INTRODUCTION

This examination is a sample of situations and behaviors in which troopers have demonstrated their ability to do the job.

The alternative courses of action to the situations have been weighted by a panel of subject-matter experts from the Washington State Patrol.

These weights reflect the judgment of the experts as to which course of action is best in keeping the Mission of the Washington State Patrol.
